UNDER GUARDStrike-breakers in Glens Falls,
N. Y. Mill

MILITIA IS ON THE SPOT

Force of Breakers Will Be Brought from Saratoga and Operations Will Be Resumed Tomorrow.

Glens Falls, N. Y., March 11.—Preparations for re-opening of the mill of the International Paper company here in the face of serious disorders by the strikers, were completed to-day, when Company K, of the second regiment was posted on guard about the property. The strike-breakers under heavy military guard, will be brought from Saratoga to-night and work will be resumed to-morrow.

A strike breaker was arrested here last night, while posing as a special officer, for drawing a revolver on a crowd that gathered about the entrance of the International Paper company's mills, when 10 additional non-union men were conveyed into the mills.

Shortly before midnight fire, thought to be incendiary in its origin, broke out in one of the stables of the International Paper company at Fort Edward. The village fire department responded but was unable to save the building. They consumed the flames, however, to the stable and it is not thought the loss will exceed $2,000.

Corinth, N. Y., March 11.—The strike of paper makers and splinter workers has now spread to five mills of the International Paper company. Four hundred men walked out yesterday afternoon at the Fort Edward mills, making 1,500 and odd men out in all at Glens Falls, South Glens Falls, Fort Edward and here at Corinth.

Three companies of militia were ordered to active duty yesterday. Companies E and F, of the 2nd regiment at Saratoga Springs, Company L, here last night, making 250 men thus far stationed at the mills. No attempt was made to molest the troops.

STRIKE BREAKERS ON WAY.

Three Carloads Pass Through Boston.
One for Bellows Falls.

Boston, Mass., March 11.—Three carloads of strike-breakers bound for the International Paper mills in New York state, passed through Boston yesterday. The men are said to have been recruited from the mills of the company in Maine. None of the party was allowed to leave the cars while in Boston. The special cars were partly provisioned for the trip in Maine and while at the north station supplies were taken on.

One of the cars was attached to a train for Troy, N. Y., late in the afternoon and another was a part of a train, which left New York at midnight. The third went late last night by way of Bellows Falls, Vt.

WILL TRY TO FORCE
STRIKE SETTLEMENTMeeting of Business Interests in Philadelphia Will Be Held Late To-day to Consider Way.

Philadelphia, March 11.—Stirred by losses, which since the beginning of the car strike have been almost incalculable, representatives of every commercial, fraternal, banking business and merchants' association in the city, will meet late this afternoon to seek a way to end the labor war. They say they are determined, no matter what the merits of the street car controversy, that the state shall not be crippled by refusal of the company to arbitrate, and drastic measures will be proposed to force some peace plan.

The strike leaders declare to-day that 145,000 workers are out. The city officials deride these figures but betray fear of trouble, and they have doubled the guard in the corridors of the city hall.

March on City Hall Stopped.

Suspecting that the crowd of 10,000 or more persons, who had been prevented from holding an open air meeting in the National league base ball park would march to city hall, the authorities took official measures to prevent the invasion of the city's central districts by what it was feared might prove a turbulent mob.

Lines of police with active clubs partially checked the marchers on their way down Broad street more than a mile from the city hall. A mile further down they broke up the parade altogether. Half a dozen persons were injured in the onslaught and a score of arrests were made. Crowds of unwelcome proportions thronged the spaces about the city hall until well towards midnight, but there was no organized demonstration.

City hall buzzed with activity while the threatening march upon it was impending. After the ranks of the marchers had been broken up by the police above the Baldwin plant, however, the officers continued themselves with keeping the straggling crowds that made their way down Broad street, on the move. There was at no time therefore commotion enough to frighten the flock of pigeons, which makes the open plaza north of the hall its feeding place. An occasional prisoner being brought in with a battered head was the only indication in the central section of the city, that force had to be employed to keep what might have been a riotous demonstration from getting fairly organized.

The police pointed to the occurrences of the afternoon as another indication of the sureress of their hold upon the situation.

Strike at Cocheo Mills Settled—Will Resume Work To-morrow.

East Rochester, N. H., March 11.—The strike of the weavers of the Cocheo woolen mills was settled late yesterday afternoon, after two lengthy conferences between Agent Meader, Supt. Collier and the strikers' committee. The outcome was a complete victory for the weavers, who obtained all they demanded, namely: a reduction in the amount of fines and an increase of 6.33 cents a yard.

To them was added another demand, which grew out of the discharge by the company Wednesday afternoon of all the out of town weavers. This was that the discharged weavers should be taken back and that they should be allowed to share equally in the terms of settlement. The management was compelled to reverse its action and treat with the entire body of weavers, the latter having decided at a meeting to stand together, whatever the result.

Yesterday morning Agent Meader sent a messenger to the local weavers, asking them to come to the company's office. They declined to go unless the out of town weavers, who had been paid off, should also be present. The conference with the strikers' committee then followed. The report was enthusiastically accepted.

Agent Meader was seen last night, but he had no statement to make concerning the matter. The weavers are employed on piece dye casimere, single loom work. It is a new grade, recently put out on the looms, and is said to be so difficult that the firm imposed for imperfections left the weaver a very small net wage.

DID DIE OF STRANGLATION.

Testified Dr. Stone About Death of Mary Johnson.

Rutland, March 11.—Dr. D. H. Stone of the state laboratory of hygiene at Burlington and Dr. William Stickney of this city were important witnesses in Rutland county court yesterday afternoon against Robert Eddy, who is on trial for his life under the charge of having caused the death of Miss Mary Jane Johnson of Wallingford, age 67 years, by strangulation, last October. Dr. Stone was not a witness at the trial six months ago when a jury disagreed.

Qualifying himself by the statement that he had taken part in about 600 autopsies, Dr. Stone testified in answer to a long hypothetical question put by Attorney-General Sargent that he considered the statement made by other doctors based on conditions observed during the post mortem on Miss Johnson, that the subject died from strangulation from external violence, was correct. He testified as to the effect of alcohol upon the human system.

Dr. Stickney coincided with the views of other physicians as to the cause of death.

A dozen witnesses were introduced yesterday to show that Eddy was under the influence of liquor and that he had a bottle of alcohol in his possession the day before the murder.

The result was that the estate was settled.

According to the testimony at the Chabot observatory in Oakland, the shock lasted one and one-half seconds and the vibration was north to south.

This leads to the belief that the young woman obtained clothing at a farm-house and boarded a train at Maxton.

DEFEND SISTER.

Relatives of Hattie LeBlanc Claim to Know Murderer.

Cambridge, Mass., March 11.—The answers of Mrs. Lillian M. Glover to the questions of her own counsel were fully as guarded yesterday as were those to the counsel for her opposing brothers-in-law last week, and comparatively little new evidence was brought out. She reiterated her claim that her relations with her husband were of a loving nature, and said that he frequently called her "pet" names.

Numerous letters and post cards from Glover to his wife introduced to still further strengthen the claim of that pleasant relations. In an interview published in a local paper, two sisters of Miss Hattie LeBlanc, the servant girl of the Glover, now under indictment for murder, declared that their sister was innocent; that she did not shoot Glover, but that they knew who did. The name of the responsible person they would not reveal.

SHAMEFULLY TREATED.

Negro Explorer Expresses Indignation Against Peary.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 11.—Malt Henson, lecturing in this city on his trip to the north pole with Commander Robert E. Peary, last night expressed indignation at what he termed Peary's "shabby treatment of him since his return to this country."

"I am very much surprised at him," Henson said. "Since we landed in New York on October 2, he has paid no attention to me and has not even communicated with me. After the hardships we went through together, and the work I have done for him, not mentioning the number of times I actually saved his life, I think he should do more than to treat me as he does. It is on account of his selfishness. He wants everything for himself and evidently begrudges me what little success I may be having with my lectures."

He was also a frequent visitor in Montpelier and Barre. Mr. Farnham died of apoplexy.

SPECIAL CENSUS AGENTS NAMED.

Montpelier State Headquarters—To Collect Facts Concerning Activities.

State headquarters have been established in Montpelier, by the arrival of Chief Special Agent E. A. Anderson, for the department of the census bureau relating to manufacturing, mines and mining, and the appointments of that branch have been announced. They are as follows: First district, Herbert F. Slayton, Washington county; second district, Leslie Collins, Chittenden and Addison counties; third district, David W. Johnson, Rutland county; fourth district, Carl J. Kilburn, Bennington county; fifth district, O. B. Hughes, Windham county; sixth district, Windsor, open; seventh district, Arthur C. Theriot, Caledonia county; eighth district, Edgar R. Fellows, Orleans and Essex counties; ninth district, Elsie J. Gates, Grand Isle, Franklin and Lamolle counties.

This part of the census service is entirely distinct from the population enumeration, as it deals with the activities of the country, and will consist of the facts pertaining to the capital invested in the various concerns, the number of employees, the amount of their wages, cost of material, amount, kind and cost of the power used, and the value of the products put out.

Vermont is divided for convenience into nine districts, all provided with special agents, except the state, Windham county, where the man appointed refused to serve. It will probably take from three to five months to compile this census department. Mr. Anderson is the chief special agent for New Hampshire and Vermont and will have charge of all the special agents of the two states.

Mr. Anderson says of the work of his office:—

"The list of queries which have to be obtained have been printed in forms and many of them have been sent out to manufacturing concerns, but the majority of these inquiries have not been placed in the hands of the special agents, who, as the general rule, will be expected to distribute them. The forms for this county were given to Mr. Slayton yesterday, and all that he will have to do will be to mail them to their different addresses, which have been placed upon them at the headquarters of this district by the clerks there. Then the special agent will pay a visit to these establishments. Some of them will, of course, be kind enough to have made or filled out the questions asked, which will facilitate matters, but others will have to be queried personally before the blanks can be completed."

"We expect that it will take from three to five months to compile our division of the census, depending entirely on the place and on the agent. All of the southern states have already started in on this branch of the service, but the statistics cannot be taken in the North in the early part of the year, because of the climatic conditions, which, in the case of lumbering, for instance, can scarcely be taken until after the drive. And so with a number of other industries."
